INTRODUCTION

This booklet contains information on taxpayers[1] and their incomes for selected years 1971 to 1983. It is derived from tables provided by Revenue Canada, Taxation. The information is provided for the Province, the ten Census Divisions and for incorported communities. Information is also available for the years 1972 to 1975 and 1977 to 1980 which are not included in this publication.

There are two points that should be taken into consideration in using this data. The first is that community indicates the mailing address. This may not be the same as the community where the person resides. The second is that the definitions of taxable income and the level of tax change over time. Two major changes in taxable income occured in 1972 and 1974. In 1972 Unemployment Insurance Benefits were made taxable. These benefits were $70 million in 1972 of which $45 million were shown on taxable returns. In 1974 family allowance benefits were made taxable. These benefits totalled $55 million of which $42 million were recorded as income on taxable returns.

1 - Taxpayers are those persons who file a personal income tax return and pay either federal and/or provincial tax.
